

Group Reflection Process

PreReflection: Spend a few moments writing responses to these questions, then share your responses with your project team members and the Perpich arts integration facilitators.

1. Describe parts of the project you feel/felt successful about (developing the unit, planning with colleagues, co-teaching, student classroom experiences, using a community resource, celebration of learning.)
2. Describe any parts of the project you feel/felt were challenging.

Group Reflection with all Project Team Members

3. Did the student learning you planned for happen? (Did students complete your planned assessments? If so, did they accomplish the learning goals? At what level?)
4. What student learning, or other student impact, happened in addition to what you planned? (What evidence tells you so?)
5. Through collaborating for arts integration, did you try any new teaching strategies and practices? If so, what? Which will you continue to develop, and why?
6. What else happened that we need to notice and learn from?

Next Steps

7. If you were to teach this lesson again, or are planning to do so, what changes will you make to improve the quality of arts integration and/or increase student learning? Be as specific as you can and revise your unit plan now if possible.
